The Leader Bindery is one of the best institutions of the kind in the West and is daily turning out large quantities of work. Send in your orders for binding and blank books and they will be promptly attended to.

NOTICE TO ADVERTISERS.
Copy for display advertisements in THE LEADER must hereafter be in the office by 7 o'clock p. m. to insure insertion in the paper of the following morning. Parties having new ads or changes will please remember this and govern themselves accordingly.

TEAR DOWN THE SHACKS.
ARE you talking for sewerage.

IT smacks of single statehood.

EVEN the moon has gone back on us.

THE Kingfisher convention was intensely exciting.

THE turkey's gobble is growing awfully mournful.

THE electric light company has retired from business.

THE Kingfisher convention voted for single statehood. Time will tell.

A THING as insignificant as a banana peel has caused the downfall of strong men.

IT is indeed a happy dispensation of Providence that Thanksgiving comes before congress convenes.

A BOSTON judge has decided that a man cannot marry his half-niece lawfully. This may induce some crank to marry a whole niece.

GOVERNOR McKINLEY is still in bad health and remains in New York consulting doctors. He needs more protection than Ohio voters can give him.

SOME one will be injured by cannon balls if the Brazilian home rule war goes on much longer, and it may pass into history with the banana war of Honduras.

Men who have thirst for holding office will take knowledge in chemical lands, or in places where the natives are in open rebellion against their government.

NO MAN really rises with the lark on purpose to be with it. If he is up in the morning when the birds get up, it is generally because he has been out on a lark all night.

MEANS books, Homer's Iliad and the Bible have been selected to the town Legislature. When a state rolls up an increased majority for a man like Jackson for Governor anything with a Republican tag on it can be elected.

IN Ohio the other day, Governor McKinley raised his hands in mute surprise when a reporter intimated something about the presidency in 1900. Yet the governor was in New York two or three days ago industriously working his presidential boom for all there is in it.

IT is believed that the forthcoming congress will enact an income tax law. This should be done without question. The vast property of the wealthy is protected by the government, and it should pay for protection. The principle of taxing large incomes is right, and the party of the people should not hesitate to take so just and proper a step.

LAST week there were published at least twenty-five different cuts and all of them were labeled "Helen Gould, the millionaire daughter of the late Jay Gould. There were at least that many last fall of Christopher Columbus. Bill Nye pointed out the latter fact and said Mr. Columbus died trying to resemble his pictures. A similar fate may overtake Miss Gould.

A CITY WITHOUT POLITICS.
One of the many useful lessons afforded by the world's fair at Chicago, and the lesson that commands itself especially to such citizens as are brought up in great respect for municipal party machine, is the fact that there was no politics in the business management of the city in Jackson Park. As far as the exposition was concerned, the people of Chicago worked to one end; and it met all other exhibitions; it met redoubt to the everlasting glory of Chicago. And so for the time democrats and republicans were remembered only that they were Chicagoans. The wisdom of this policy is seen in the closing week of most brilliant exposition known to the world.

There was a city in a city, a city that ignored politics and political parties and governed itself on business principles. It wrestled with all the problems that present themselves to municipal government—police protection, fire department, street cleaning, light, water—everything that calls for level heads and good management. And as there were no enemies to punish, no friends to reward; as all parties combined for the common purpose of making a model city, and of working public spiritedly and patriotically for the glory and beauty of that city, it followed as a matter of course that the end sought after was gained.

The "white city," then, is in many important respects typical of the municipality. It has demonstrated in contrast how baneful is government based on partisan obligations and promises, and crippled where it should be the strongest. It has shown how the united efforts of a municipality, unrestrained by factional jealousy and partisan scheming and directed to one end—the common welfare—will bring about the best condition of affairs and the best public service. The city that rose in Jackson Park was built and governed on business principles that should be urged on every municipality in the country. The more closely those principles are studied the more they will commend themselves as a shining example of the best municipal government.

FEMALE SUFFRAGE IN ENGLAND.
The first defeat on a division which the present British Ministry has sustained took place last week. It is true that the point at issue was not a vital one, nor could it in any way be construed as involving the existence of the government; but nevertheless, as a straw indicating the drift of the current in British politics, it is interesting.

The incident referred to was the division on the amendment to the parish council bills, moved by a prominent radical member of the house of commons, giving women the right to vote, who possess the qualifications which, if they were men, would entitle them to vote in parliamentary elections. Although the amendment was opposed by the government, it was carried with the aid of radical and tory votes.

This vote, if the bill finally becomes a law, would accord to women having sufficient property qualifications the right to vote in local elections; and if the support accorded the amendment in question were to be given to a more general bill entitling women to vote at all elections, the possession of property would give women the right of suffrage in Great Britain.

While the result of this division in the house of commons is interesting, as showing a certain drift of public sentiment in Great Britain in favor of limited suffrage, it must not be supposed that all who voted for the amendment of the past week would vote the same way on a general bill. Nearly the entire tory vote cast for the amendment was so cast out of hostility to the government, and not because of any special interest in the question at issue, hence the vote is not exactly a just criterion of what the result would have been were female suffrage before parliament on its merits.

Nevertheless, it is a fact which cannot be denied that the proposition to accord the right of suffrage to women has made greater strides in England than it has in this country, and must, sooner or later, play an interesting role in British legislation.

THE NEW TARIFF BILL.

The customs schedule of the new tariff bill as framed by the Democratic majority of the ways and means committee is out and appears in THE LEADER today. The bill presents a sweeping free list of changes and the luxuries suffer to a great extent. The necessities of life find a strong place in the heart of the bill. This is as it should be. The majority report is clear and easily defined. Now the Republicans will have a chance to file their minority.

A SOLOON'S BAD BREAK.

A Morality Preaching Councilman in a Bad Light.
One of the astute gentlemen who sits on the council board, preaches morality and prefers charges—and kicks and kicks and kicks. He placed himself in a bad light if the stories floating around are true. It is alleged that the councilman in question got on a howling bout the other night and after spending $30 ran up against a faro game at Reaves' saloon. Here he made out several checks, aggregating $245, on a well known firm and cashed them. The firm is now howling for its money and wants to recover through Reaves Bros., while the councilman has temporarily pulled. It is safe to say the councilman will be fired from the council at the next meeting.

Got Nine Hundred.
A young lady by the name of Miss Nannie Cameron, who has been suing the Santa Fe railroad for putting her off the train at Norman, instead of Moore, her destination, as shown by her ticket in 1899, has received $500 damages from the road.

Trumped Up Charge.
Perry T. Cox, Deputy Marshall Hall, of Guthrie, was in the city this morning with a warrant for the arrest of C. N. Parrish upon the charge of sending through the mails an obscene letter. The warrant was issued out of the district court of the United States at Guthrie, to which place Mr. Parrish went this morning.

COL. BUFFALO WILLIAM.

IT IS PROBABLE HE WILL INVEST IN GUTHRIE REALTY.

He Has Already Bought a Big Slice of Land at El Reno—He Will Erect a Building.

A gentleman who came in yesterday from El Reno stated that Buffalo Bill, or Colonel Cody, would arrive in Guthrie with General Miles next week to sojourn a few days. The two noted gentlemen have never visited Guthrie, and they think a trip to the territory would be incomplete without a visit to the capital.

Colonel Cody is also desirous of placing some of his surplus world's fair cash in a number of Oklahoma cities, and according to all reports, a choice Guthrie lot will soon be in his possession. He has already invested in El Reno realty, as the following special from that place shows:

"A sale of one of the best pieces of business property in El Reno was made last week by the real estate firm of Springs & Caldwell to Colonel W. F. Cody, who will at once commence the erection of a fine three-story brick building thereon. Colonel Cody intimated that he would return here soon, with some friends and capitalists and make another investment. He expressed himself as being more than pleased with the prospects of our city, and believes that El Reno will be the great railroad center, the future metropolis of Oklahoma, and the distributing point of the great southwest. This action on the part of a keen, shrewd, much-traveled man speaks for itself. Others are taking the hint and our local architects, as well as contractors, are busy on numerous plans and estimates for substantial brick blocks. Business property is steadily advancing, and good, convenient residence property is going at a premium, though never selling for more than its actual value."

EARTHQUAKE SHOCKS.

Nearly Every City and Town in the Province of Canada Shaken.

MONTREAL, Nov. 28.—An earthquake was felt at nearly all the cities and towns in Quebec about noon yesterday and was quite violent in this city.

At Rawdon a panic among the populace followed the shocks.

At Three Rivers, parlor floors were strewn with light bricks—bricks jarred from mantles and tables.

At St. Hubert, a small station on the Canadian Pacific, the shock was violent enough to upset a stove in the railway station.

LEWELLING VERY ILL.

Governor of Kansas Threatened With Pneumonia.

TOPEKA, Kan., Nov. 28.—Governor Lewelling is quite ill. He is on the verge of pneumonia fever. He has taken the advice of his physician and will go to Excelsior Springs for treatment. Governor Lewelling's illness is the result of a severe cold contracted during the late political campaign.

Highest Dream of the Vatican.

LONDON, Nov. 28.—The correspondent of the Standard at Rome says that in the highest and most reserved circles it is well known that the present dream of the Vatican is the establishment of a federal Italian republic. This idea is the only real explanation of the extraordinary language adopted by the Vatican organs in speaking of the mission of France and Russia with relation to the papacy.

Soldier Sentenced.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 28.—Sergeant Bruce of Company A, Benicia barracks, was sentenced to five years at Fort Leavenworth, Kan., and then to dishonorably discharged for drunkenness while on duty.

Postmaster Libby Dead.

MARYSVILLE, Kan., Nov. 28.—L. W. Libby, ex-mayor and the present postmaster of this place, was taken sick with la grippe and pneumonia last Wednesday and died at 11:45 to-day.

Foul Play Feared.

Two weeks ago last Wednesday J. B. Baldwin, a prominent merchant of Cloud Chief, Washita county, left Cloud Chief for El Reno on business. He is supposed to have carried quite a sum of money. Nothing has been heard of him since, and foul play is feared. His daughter, Miss Lulu, who is attending the Oklahoma City high school, left yesterday for El Reno to ascertain if possible the whereabouts of her father.

A Few Society Fads.

The proper way to shake hands is something everybody ought to know, says the New York World. Hands should not be clasped, but caught at the second joint, in the way shown in the accompanying cut, and two or three decisive little jerks given. The thumbs of the shakers should be held up straight, and have practically nothing to do with the matter. The old fashioned method of clasping hands is very bad form.

Cordiality in the street is likewise becoming obsolete, and if you can

DON'T THROW YOUR MONEY AWAY

Drug, Book and News Depot.

We expect to occupy that large, elegant room in the new Victor block about November 1, and in order to reduce our Wall Paper and Paint stock will make special prices on these goods during the remainder of this month that will surprise you. We keep the largest stock of school books and school supplies in the city. Fine Perfumes and Toilet goods a specialty.

F. B. Lillie &amp; Co.

manage to infuse into your manner of greeting an air of geniality. It is all the more proper. The lady should always recognize her men acquaintances first. In walking together a man no longer of necessity keeps to the curb, and he never changes his places in crossing streets, always keeping the lady at his right.

It is very bad form to gesticulate. Never make a gesture. Never show any animation in your face. That is a solecism society will never pardon. The more you resemble a wooden block the better form you are. It is the height of good form to look at people as though you saw something on the other side of them.

Perfumes are becoming quite a fad, and the really Oriental perfumes are the proper ones. The fact that the odorone frequently notices on the street when passing a woman suggests a hot vanilla pudding and was formerly regarded as vulgar has nothing to do with the matter now.

Coming Christian Convention.

The Oklahoma christian workers conference and missionary convention will be held in El Reno, December 1 to 11. There will be a number of noted evangelists and preachers from a distance among whom will be Pastor Tom Horton of St. Paul, Minnesota; editor of the Gospel Message, Rev. O. M. Miles, evangelist and Dr. Robert McMillan and wife, missionaries from India. About five delegates and visitors are expected.

The Captain is Happy.

The result of the sales court martial is not known to anyone except the members of the court, yet the captain has not been happier in six months than he was yesterday. It took the court five minutes to reach a verdict on five counts, so whatever it is the verdict was quickly arrived at. The intimations all point to an acquittal on every count.

JURY BRIBERY CHARGED.

The trial of Detective Coughlin of Chicago stopped very suddenly. Chicago, Nov. 27.—The trial of Daniel Coughlin, charged with complicity in the "gun" murder, was brought to an abrupt stop to-day by alleged attempts at jury bribing. State's Attorney Kern claims that just before the case was called to-day he was given information that a certain juror, whose name is not divulged, is intimately connected with some of Coughlin's friends, that he was put on the venire fraudulently and had been "coached" so that he could qualify as a juror.
